

Five Components of Measurement System Variation

All must be assessed for a complete MSA study

Bias

Difference between measured and true value

Linearity

Bias change across measurement range

Stability

Bias change over time

Repeatability

Variation when same operator re-measures

Reproducibility

Variation between different operators